

VI. Financial Considerations

There is no charge to parishioners for use of the church building for the funeral or the wake.

There is no charge for the services of the priests or deacons. It is up to the family, if a family wishes, to make a personal gift to the priest or deacon. This is handled through the funeral home.

Since playing the organ and singing in church is the livelihood of these professional people, the charge is determined by the Liturgical Music Association in the Charlotte area. The charge for the organist and the cantor will be handled through the funeral home.

If there is a financial burden in regards to the payment for the organist and the cantor, please let us know. This will be handled through the Tithing Fund and not through the funeral home.
